A partnership with Osborne Logistics means more than just having another third-party logistics provider: we work to be a seamless extension of your company. We never put our customers in a box: always growing and evolving with their business.

For our customers, who range from true small businesses, to multi-billion dollar public companies, their supply-chain is not their core business or focus; it is however, our core business and we take the everyday burdens of transportation, shipping, receiving, and inventory management off of our customers shoulders. The logistics of your materials should not be something that holds you back, it should be something that enables you to succeed in the ever more competitive marketplace.

Call us today, and let us put more than fifty years of supply-chain management experience to work for you as your complete logistics solution.

Packaging - Crating

"Adding Value to Your Supply Chain"

At H&O Distribution we ensure that the only thing we put in a box is product, not our customers. Our packaging division of H&O makes sure that we can meet customers needs, no matter the size, scale, time schedule, or complexity of the project. Packaging and repackaging, crating, bagging, kitting, labeling, product inspection, product rework, inserts, heat seal, mailings, P.O.P. displays, riveting, folding, collating, sleeves and assembly are just a few of the services that are currently being offered. Competitive rates and excellent service have enabled us to experience a consistent pattern of growth. We approach each job with a "can do" attitude and we honestly believe no job is too small or too large to handle.

- ✓ Is your short-term or long-term packaging volume more than your employees can handle?
- ✓ Does new business, deadlines, and a heavy workload make it necessary to supplement the efforts of your in-house staff?
- ✓ Do you have specific requirements that may be better served by using knowledgeable experts?
- ✓ Is the project a short-run which might not be worth the investment to gear-up and run in your facility?
- ✓ Are there times when in-house equipment or expertise for a particular job is not available?

If it doesn't make sense to automate, call H&O Distribution and let us become a part of your business.

Whether it is kit work or the actual assembly of your product, our handwork operation will be customized to meet your individual needs. Each step of the process is quality checked to ensure that all specifications are being met.
